A glowing success for Fern-Howard at LuxLive

Fern-Howard's show stopping stand just couldn't be missed at the recent LuxLive event in London. Rapidly growing from a specialist bulkhead manufacturer into a full range lighting company, Fern-Howard launched several completely new product ranges at the show.

The brand-new range of dimmable LED lamps featuring a CRI of 90 caused quite a stir amongst visitors to the stand, as did the Continuous Link LED batten systems that will allow contractors to quickly create custom lighting for various applications simply by connecting different lengths battens via push-fit connectors.

Just as robust and reliable as ever, packed with contractor friendly features, all the new ranges on show were a sure sign of Fern-Howard's continued expansion.
